FEDERALS WIN CHAMPIONSHIP OF TWILIGHT LEAGUE

Defeat A. O. H. in Two Out of Three Game Play-Off

SCORE IS 5 TO 3

Apparently Beaten in Sixth, Federals Men Make Great Rally

The Federals yesterday won the championship of the Bristol Twilight League by again defeating the A. O. H., thereby taking two of the three game series.

After being apparently beaten for six innings, the Federals staged a rallying rally in the seventh and counted five time, making the score 5-3, which proved enough to win.

Up until the seventh inning Mangan held the champions to four hits and was well supported. Kohler also pitched well but his team mates constantly had him in trouble with poor fielding. Thompson's fielding and hitting was the feature.

How the game was played:

First inning — Connors singled to center. Dougherty bunted to Kohler who threw wild to second. McDevitt safe on Riola's error, filling the bases. Mangan fanned. Connors was thrown out at the plate on Leyden's grounder to Riola. Holden fanned. No runs, one hit, two errors.

Cochran lined to Dougherty and was safe on his muff. McGerr sacrificed Lawler to Leyden. Dietrich out on strikes. Barrett rolled to Thompson. No runs, no hits, one error.

Second inning — Lawler was thrown out by Riola. Thompson singled to right. Dugan erred on McGinley's grounder. Connors struck out. Dougherty hit to right field. Thompson counting. McDevitt out Kohler to McGerr. One run, two hits, one error.

Dugan hit a "Texas Leaguer" to right field. Riola popped a fly over third, which fell safe. Devid hit thru Dougherty, but Dugan lumped him and was declared out for interference. White fanned and Kohler flied to left field. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Third inning — Mangan got a safety to left field. Leyden sacrificed. Riola to McGerr. Holden grounded to McGerr who touched first and in attempting to double-up Mangan going to third, threw wild. Mangan scoring. Lawler out on strikes. One run, one hit, one error.

Cochran dropped a safe one to left field and advanced on a wild pitch. McGerr flied to left. Dietrich skied to Connors. Barrett grounded to Leyden. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth inning — Thompson safe on Riola's wild throw. McGinley fanned. Connors out. Dietrich to McGerr. Dougherty out on strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors.

TAFT, 72, PLANS FOR HARD WINTER'S WORK

Chief Justice, Only Man Who Ever Headed Two Branches Of Government

RECOVERS HIS HEALTH

By William S. Neal

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Chief Justice William Howard Taft, the only man who has ever headed two branches of the government of the American Republic, observed his 72nd birthday at his summer home in Murray Bay, Quebec, September 15, concerned above all else with preparing himself for a long, hard winter's work on the bench of the highest court in Washington.

Having put politics far behind him, the chief justice's great interest in life now rests with the welfare of his children and grandchildren and with his "job," according to his closest friends.

Although he was ill when he left here early in the summer for his summer home, the chief justice is reported to be physically fit for the long term of court which begins October 7 and does not end until the first Monday in June.

Having served four years as president and having completed eight years as chief justice on June 30, he has headed both the executive and judicial branches of the government. He has been solicitor-general, Governor-General of the Philippines, Secretary of War and a judge of lesser federal courts. In all Chief Justice Taft has probably the most remarkable record of service in high posts of the federal government of any man since the nation was founded.

Still burdened with great weight which has defied many efforts at dieting, the chief justice nevertheless has retained the jovial disposition which became famous throughout the world when he was President. He and the venerable Justice Holmes frequently break over the dignity and solemnity of the highest court by joking with attorneys, and the famous Taft chuckle is often heard.

A foe of proposed compulsory retirement of judges at the age of 70, Chief Justice Taft has indicated to friends that he has no thought of retirement so long as he retains his health and ability to concentrate on his great task.

Even since assuming his place on the bench he has been fired with a new ambition. He has become an uncompromising foe of "the law's delays" and he has confided to others that it will be a great day for him when he can say that the supreme court will receive and decide virtually all cases in the same term.

With the court several years behind its docket when he became Chief Justice, Mr. Taft obtaining cooperation of Congress, secured new laws, changes in court rules and by other means has reduced the number of left-over cases until it was necessary for the court to suspend argument's early last summer, because there were no cases ready.

One of the strongest influences Chief Justice Taft has exerted in the court, observers say, is to uphold the right and power of the government whenever possible over state and private interest, and to apply with vigor the constitution and law insofar as it (Continued on Page Two)

Honesty a Requisite for Public Office

(EDITORIAL)

THE Councilmanic fights which are being made in the First and Third wards against the renomination of members of that body, whose terms are about expiring and who are seeking renomination, as well as the other contests to be settled by tomorrow's balloting, are properly the subject of reflection, and should engage the careful and thoughtful attention of the Republican voters.

In this reflection no line of thought suggests itself more prominently than the relationship and character of our councilmen and office holders to the business of the borough.

It requires about $80,000 a year, collected through the tax levy and other sources, to operate the Borough Government. Besides, the gross income from the Municipal Water Works, amounts to over $50,000 a year. The expending of the taxes and the management of the public utilities are entrusted by Council to committees. It must, therefore, be apparent to all, that if this large sum of money is to be properly and wisely expended, then the outstanding qualification of those who aspire to the office of Councilman, should be honesty.

Coincident with the great development of the Borough within the last twenty years, and the great task which has arisen to successfully manage and operate its business affairs, the demand has come for men to fill the office of Councilman, who possess sound judgment, business experience, integrity and above all unquestioned and unswerving honesty. The time is past when the duties of a Councilman simply compel his attendance at the meetings of Town Council, held once a month. The affairs of the Borough are administered through committees, and these committees are clothed with authority so that they function continuously. The power and authority which is delegated to the various committees, make it imperative that those who are elected to Town Council, should be men of known probity and trustworthiness.

In a town like Bristol, where candidates for Borough office, are known to a large majority of the voters, and where the private and business life of the candidates are like an open book, there can be no excuse for supporting men who do not display in their lives these important elements of probity and honesty. The voters of the community, who furnish the funds through the payment of taxes, for the support of the government, and who are interested in its growth and development, owe a duty to themselves and to the community, to see that only men possessing these qualifications are elevated to positions of trust and responsibility.

One of the arguments used, when the enfranchisement of women was being considered, was, that the public officer of the future, would have to measure up to a high standard of rectitude, if he hoped to win the support of the new voters. This in a measure has come true, and the men who are now elevated to public office, must exhibit in their lives, honesty, integrity, trustworthiness and decency, and a willingness not only to uphold the moral uprightness of the community, but to display in their own lives, these same elements.

These are some of the reasons why the tax payers at the election tomorrow should use the same discriminating judgment in supporting candidates, where contests occur, as they would in arriving at a judgment in their most important personal affairs; remembering their action in supporting candidates not alone will have an effect on themselves, but upon the interests and affairs of every other tax payer as well.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN MINOR ACCIDENTS BRACKEN POST WILL RE-STAGE CARNIVAL HERE

None of the Victims Are Seriously Hurt in Week-End Crashes

TREATED AT HOSPITAL TO ADD NEW FEATURES

Only minor automobile accidents occurred in this section over the week-end and those injured were treated at the Harriman Hospital.

Elsie Lancaster, 1646 Meadon street, riding with William Neild, of 1655 Meadon street, Philadelphia, suffered cuts on the left and right arms and sustained a compound fracture of the elbow.

The Neild car ran off the concrete and Miss Lancaster was thrown against the side of the machine and cut and bruised.

Mrs. Susan Prinold, Green Lane, sustained a deep cut on the left side of her face and a sprained hand last night when the machine in which she was riding hit a truck. The accident occurred on Beaver Dam Road.

Edward Harbinson, 3555 Sheffield avenue, Philadelphia, sustained a deep cut and possible fracture of the nose when he ran into his own car at Croydon last night.

Harry Phipps, North Radcliffe street, was slightly injured last night, when the car he was driving crashed with a truck on Beaver Dam Road. The steering wheel was jammed against Mr. Phipps' chest. He may have a fractured rib.

Disappearance of Girls Causes Unusual Activity by Police

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—(INS)—The mysterious disappearance of three young girls here within a week caused unusual activity among police officials today. A "white slave" ring is believed responsible for their disappearance.

The first girl to disappear, Elizabeth Welsh, 17, left home Saturday evening ostensibly to visit a doctor. She never had stayed away from home overnight before. Margaret Maguire, 16, the next girl to disappear left for a short walk and failed to reappear. Elizabeth Lox, 15, the third girl reported missing "cut" school to find a job last Thursday and has not returned home since.

Police fear other young girls in the city are missing but that their parents shunning newspaper notoriety have failed to report their absences.

MURDER CASES WILL GO ON TRIAL THIS WEEK

Maria Tilotta to Stand Trial For Aiding in Murder of Her Husband

OCCURRED IN DEC., 1928

The murder cases waiting for trial at Doylestown are expected to get under way this week. Included in the list is Maria Tilotta, 1144 Beaver street and Giacomo Gueciordo, Brooklyn, N. Y. Both are charged with being implicated in the murder of Giovanni Tilotta, husband of Maria.

On the evening of December 29th, last year, Tilotta went with Giuseppe Guida, a friend, for a ride to Emille to get eggs. Guida, it appears, was a lover of Tilotta's wife and it is charged had schemed with Marie to get rid of her husband so that their friendship would not be interfered with.

Enroute home from Emille Guida and Tilotta were held up and asked for a piece of rope. Tilotta got out of the car to look beneath the seat for the rope and when he did he was pounced upon and severely beaten. Tilotta crawled nearly a mile to a farm house where he summoned help and was brought to the Harriman Hospital here. He died the next night.

Guida was tried and convicted of the charge. He has been sentenced to the chair.

It is contended that Guida and Maria Tilotta contracted with Giacomo to bring men from Brooklyn who attacked Tilotta and beat him.

CARD PARTY

The card party to be held in Hibernian Hall on Friday evening, promises to be a large affair. Pinochle, "500" and bridge will be played and prizes awarded. Refreshments will also be on sale. Those who enjoy an evening playing cards, are invited to attend this party.

BY THE STROLLER

The machine age is getting nearer and nearer every day. The P. R. R. is having the local passenger station repainted by the spraying method.

Asking one of the crew of workmen engaged on the job, the Stroller was informed: "Why shouldn't it make a good job? This is the way they paint automobiles, and they are all right!"

Keeper: "Didn't you see that notice, 'No fishing here'?"

Fisherman: "Yes, but it's wrong. I have caught half a dozen already."

BIG STREET PARADE IS PLANNED BY LEGION

Will Be Held in Connection With Dedication of Legion Home, October 12th

EXPECT MANY VISITORS

Arrangements are being made by J. Hetherington, chairman of the dedication day parade committee of the Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion, and his committee members for the gigantic parade which will make its course over the borough's streets, Oct. 12th.

It is planned to have a judges' stand erected on Radcliffe street, opposite Walnut, and if possible a reviewing stand opposite the Bristol Recreational Center in the sixth ward.

Aiding Mr. Hetherington in his plans are: John Rafferty, H. F. Burbank, William Griffiths, and Robert B. Downing.

Parade route will lead over Jefferson avenue and Radcliffe street, to Mill, to Bath, to Buckley, to Beaver, Pond, Harrison, to the high school field.

The exercises in connection with the dedication of the Bracken post's new home on Radcliffe street, will be held at two p. m., the parade being started later, or at three.

Report is to be made at post headquarters by all posts arriving in town, and their numbers will be assigned and the groups will be directed by Boy Scouts to their forming place. Formation points are to be: Radcliffe, north of Jefferson avenue; Jefferson avenue; Wood street, south of Jefferson, and Cedar street, south of Jefferson.

JOHN GIEBEL, 65, SLASHES THROAT WITH OWN RAZOR

Says He Must Have Done It While Asleep After Drinking

HAD BEEN MELANCHOLY

Worried Over Wife Confined In Insane Asylum For Ten Years

HULMEVILLE, Sept. 16.—A man who unknowingly cut his throat with a razor while he was asleep in the Harriman Hospital, Bristol, and is expected to die.

John Giebel, 65, a farm hand employed on the farm of William White, Hulmeville Road, Bensalem Township, is the victim of a most peculiar circumstance.

Giebel has been employed by White for the past month. Wednesday he went to Philadelphia and returned to the White farm yesterday under the influence of liquor. He went to his room which he occupied in the wagon house. Early this morning he was found by White with his throat severed. The windpipe is cut but the jugular vein was missed. It is believed that the man will die.

Giebel, according to his own story, did not know that he cut his throat. He states that he went to bed at 6.30 last evening. He had five or six pints of liquor and had been drinking since Wednesday. Sometime during the interval from the time that he retired and the hour he was found he got out of bed, opened a suit case and took a razor therefrom and cut his throat.

"I had no intentions of committing suicide," he says. "I hope I die now because I am getting too old to work and was to be laid off. My life was happy until 10 years ago when my wife was taken to an insane asylum at Norristown."

When Giebel was found by White it was evident that he had had his throat cut several hours because the blood had coagulated.

"I don't recall getting up. I can't remember a thing about it. I have never had the idea in my head of cutting my throat. I always believed in God and a hereafter."

Giebel has a son living but no address is known. He had worked in the neighborhood of the White farm for quite sometime before taking employment with White. It is said that the man evidently had brooded much over his wife's condition and had not been well for the past several weeks.

Social Leaders To Appear At Inquest in Allentown

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 16.—(INS)—A round dozen leaders of Lehigh County's upper social set have been asked to appear tonight at the inquest to be conducted into the mysterious death of Mrs. Emily Van Wagenen, prominent society matron, whose mutilated body was found on the highway near her home here on the night of August 18th. Roy Van Wagenen, the woman's husband, who was found sleeping in their home at the time the body was found, has been placed under arrest by State Troopers and will be given a hearing prior to the inquest tonight.

Authorities will endeavor to learn if a "gay" party took place at the swanky Lehigh Country Club preceding the woman's death as has been reported in many quarters. Revelations of an astounding nature are predicted before the investigation into the society matron's death has been concluded.

County officials have refused thus far to divulge the list of witnesses called for tonight.

"They are far too prominent to have their names bandied around," County Coroner Frederick Bausch declared when asked who had been subpoenaed. "The list reads like a social register of this county."

"Was Mrs. Van Wagenen murdered?" That is the question that has intrigued Allentown for a month and the answer to it Coroner Bausch believes will be arrived at before the inquest is over. He is determined to call Lehigh County's entire list of "400" if need be to clear up the mystery.

Van Wagenen, a prominent insurance broker and accountant, will have a hearing before Justice of the Peace William Bowers. Three high school students who are reported to have seen Mrs. Van Wagenen topple out of an automobile early on the morning of August 18th, will be the chief witnesses at the hearing. They will also appear at the coroner's inquest later this evening.

Lawrence Rupp, attorney for Van Wagenen, promises to offer a "sensational theory" to explain Mrs. Van Wagenen's death but is not expected to present it until the inquest is convened. Meanwhile Van Wagenen is in the Lehigh County Jail.

BAFFLING PROBLEM

The problem of crime is the problem of adolescent youth. Eighty-five per cent of the criminals of the United States are young men and women between eighteen and twenty-five years of age. This is probably due to the fact that youth acts upon impulse—to the present is everything, it has none of the fears and experiences of the past to warn it and has no perspective of the future. It is reckless of the consequences.

Criminal careers are progressive. Rarely is a murder or even the robbery or burglary the first offence. Most criminal careers begin in early life. As a rule there is a progression from thoughtless rowdiness to petty thefts or embezzlement, then to robbery and burglary, and then often to murder.

The question is, why do these youngsters first break away and how can this evolution in crime be prevented? An answer to this question will largely solve the crime problem.

Environment and the wrong kind of home life start most of the wayward on the wrong path, but how to remove these causes is a question society has been unable to answer and probably never will answer entirely. Not even the abolition of poverty, which is the most prolific breeder of crime, will eliminate all crime, as criminal instincts are frequently discovered among the children of the rich.

ASSEMBLING THE BUDGET

During the next few weeks the budget bureau at Washington will do some calculating which will determine the weight of the federal tax burden next year. The time for the annual budget making is here.

It is the duty of the bureau to cut the governmental coat of expenditure according to the cloth of revenue, a task usually comparable to cutting a coat for a giant from cloth measured for a midget. While the national revenue is stupendous, the departmental estimates of expense, before the paring season, reduce it to the relative proportions of the widow's mite.

President Hoover would like to offer the nation a tax cut in 1930. He will insist that there be neither treasury deficit or tax increase. It is largely up to the current paring operations of the budget bureau which it shall be.

Budget Director James C. Roop has sent word to the department heads that their appropriation requests for next year must be no higher than those for the present fiscal year. He demands that much and hopes for more in the form of voluntary economies. His predecessors enjoyed surprising cooperation in this respect from the departments, so he, the president and the taxpayers may not be due for a disappointment.

The game of hearts is very old. The only difference is that the cave man used a club instead of a diamond.

In spring, it has often been said, woman's fancy turns to clothes. Not to mention summer, autumn and winter.

There may not be any map of the road to success, as a paragrapher remarks, but there is a fairly well blazed trail if any one cares to follow it.

RIVERSIDE THEATRE

"Noah's Ark," made to top any picture ever made, comes to the Riverside Theatre, tonight for a run of four days. This stupendous spectacle, which includes more than ten thousand in the cast, was over three years in the making. Vitaphone is used for symphonic accompaniment, for sounds and for the voices of players—the grandeur of the effect can be imagined from the fact that the play covers the most dramatic moments in the span of fifty centuries—the modern story having to do with the period of the World War and the ancient sequences portraying scenes of the building of the Tower of Babel—vast orgies before heathen gods—the world-devastating Flood—and the building of the Ark.

Michael Curtiz, internationally famous as director of mighty spectacles—directed this greatest of all epics of the screen. Dolores Costello is starred with George O'Brien, Noah Berry, Louise Fazenda, Guinn Williams, Paul McAllister, Nigel de Brulier, Anders Randolph, Armand Kadjiz, Myrna Loy, William V. Mong, Malcolm Waite, Noble Johnson, Otto Hoffman and Joe Bonomo. The story of "Noah's Ark" was written by Darryl Francis Zanuck.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET

guarantees the rights of private property.

He has not always had the majority of the court with him, and within the past two years, the dissents of Justice Holmes, Brandeis and Stone have been frequently heard. In many instances they have dissented when the majority, headed by Chief Justice Taft, have held state laws affecting both human and property right in violation of the federal constitution.

The chief justice's attitude in upholding the right of the federal government has been exemplified in decisions on Volstead act cases, in the opinion of observers. His past statements indicate that he is not in sympathy with such legislation, but the court has steadfastly upheld the power of the government to enforce it.

The chief justice expressed himself rather frankly after he was president and before he mounted the supreme bench and took himself out of political and civic discussions. Writing in his book, "Four Aspects of Civil Duty," Mr. Taft said:

"Nothing is more foolish, nothing more utterly at variance with sound policy than to enact a law, which by reasons of conditions surrounding the community, is incapable of enforcement. Such instances are sometimes presented by sumptuary laws, by which the sale of intoxicating liquor is prohibited under penalties in localities, where the public sentiment of the immediate community does not and will not sustain the enforcement of the law."

GRAND THEATRE

The Grand Theatre has a picture on its program for tonight and tomorrow evening that every one should see. It

A Man's Man." William Haines' new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, a sound synchronized production. Directed by James Cruze from the Patrick Kearney stage hit and laid entirely in Hollywood, it gives intimate glimpses of the film colony, its stars, its social events, all without any stereotyped studio scenes.

The affair is a hilarious comedy, a satire on all Hollywood life, with a love romance running through it. Josephine Dunn plays the girl, a movie-struck bride, who thinks she resembles Greta Garbo, and Sam Hardy, of "Diamond Handcuffs" fame, the villain, a discharged assistant director, and Mae Busch, an appealing character part, that of a hard-boiled extra who takes the movie-struck little bride under her protection.

One of the spectacular scenes shows the brilliant premiere of "White Shadows" at Grauman's famous Chinese theatre.

OF TWILIGHT LEAGUE

threw David's roller to Leyden. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth inning — McDevitt beat out a slow one to Riola, and stole second. Mangan reached first on balls. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Leyden struck out. Holden grounded to Dugan, McDevitt scoring. Lawler flied to Barrett. One run, one hit, no errors.

White out on a grounder to Thompson. Kohler grounded to Lawler. Cochran fanned. No runs, hits or errors.

Sixth inning — Thompson dropped a hit to left garden, but died stealing. David to Dugan. McGinley tapped to Kohler. Connors passed on balls. Dougherty out. Dietrick to McGerr. No runs, one hit, no errors.

McGerr flied to McDevitt. Dietrick drove one down the left field foul line for a base. Barrett rolled out to Leyden. Dugan out Lawler to Leyden. No runs, one hit, one error.

Seventh inning — McDevitt heaved first on balls. Mangan hit to Dietrick who tagged McDevitt and threw to McGerr, doubling up Mangan. Kohler threw out Leyden. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Riola hit thru Dougherty, but was awarded first by the umpire for the catcher's interference. David dropped a safe hit to right field. H. Cochran, who had replaced White in right field the previous inning, sacrificed both runners, Mangan to Leyden. Kohler reached first on balls, filling the bases. Cochran hit safely to center, Riola scoring. McGerr's safe swat to right counted David, and Kohler also came over on McDevitt's fumble. Dietrick counted Cochran with a sacrifice fly to left, McGerr taking second, a wild pitch advancing him to third, from where he counted on Barrett's hit to right. Barrett attempted to steal and died, Mangan to Thompson. Five runs, four hits, one error.

Eighth inning — Holden out, Dugan to McGerr. Lawler safe on Dietrick's error. Thompson singled thru short. McGinley made a safe hit to left and Lawler was out attempting to score. Barrett to David; the ball was relayed to Riola and Thompson was doubled at third, but Riola dropped the throw. Connors flied to McGerr. No runs, two hits, one error.

Dugan flied to left. Riola reached first on balls. David flied to Thompson. Cochran forced Riola, Lawler to Thompson. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth inning — Barrett took Dougherty's fly. McDevitt fanned. Mangan dropped one safe along the right field foul line. Leyden struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

LOUGHRAN CHANGED;
READY FOR BATTLE

By Copeland C. Bartz

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Jack Sharkey, the garrulous gob, who values a one-way conversation as highly as Henry Ford, the great collector, would regard the retrieving of one of Abe Lincoln's split rails, may be rudely shocked if he plans a talkie soiree when he meets Tommy Loughran here the night of September 26.

The Boston sailor probably will be taken unawares in rough waters if he plans to pass the evening on a fistic Harvard classics five-foot shelf, for they say the former light heavyweight has undergone a complete metamorphosis since he relinquished his title a few weeks ago and set out to be a full-fledged heavy.

From Harvey's Lake, Pennsylvania, where Loughran is training for his debut as a heavyweight against Sharkey, comes word that Tommy is a bigger and better man and his dance and tap dance act has been revamped overnight into one of serious tragedy, embroidered with a heavy sock and a stolid atmosphere as well as a general complex of the Canadian mountie method of pursuit and capture.

Any stalling and clinching, interspersed with ring hon mots from the talkative Sharkey, will be met by Loughran in a vicious attack, is bruited about in fisticiana here, where it is reported Loughran does not intend to be content with merely outpointing the Bostonian but has his heart and fists set on a kayo.

From Tommy's camp the word is that Loughran not only has trained more thoroughly for this bout than usual, but has devoted his efforts in building up a murderous attack, something like the fans expected from

Taxes Are Now Due

Borough and School Taxes are now due and payable at the office of the Tax Collector, Municipal Building, Mulberry and Pond streets, between the hours of 9 and 12 a. m., and 1 and 5 p. m., daylight saving time, on all business days.

On all Borough Tax for general purposes paid on or before August 31st, 1929, a rebate of five per cent. will be allowed.

School Tax received flat (without any discount) up to and including the 30th day of September, 1929.

Tax Collector.

Amateur Champ Shows Grit Winning Title

After fighting his first round opponent to the nineteenth hole before a verdict, Harrison Jimmy Johnson, left, of St. Paul, Minn., is the new amateur golf king. It was in this same first round that Bobby Jones was eliminated. Many will say that had Bobby remained in the tournament that Jimmy would not have won. That's a question. The St. Paul player showed indomitable courage all through his matches. His great shot from the beach on the eighteenth to half the hole to save himself from elimination is enough proof of his calibre. Jimmy's putter, as you see, right, always carried him safely on the greens. Any man who can beat Dr. Willing of Portland, Ore., a wily seasoned fairway veteran, shown, left center, congratulating the winner after the finals at Pebble Beach, Cal., is worthy to wear the amateur crown regardless of Jones.
